

Annual Report of the Mediation and Arbitration Board

2006/2007

Message from the Chair

I am pleased to submit the second Annual Report of the Mediation and Arbitration Board (“Board”) for the year from April 1, 2006 to March 31, 2007. This report is prepared pursuant to the Memorandum of Understanding between the Minister of Energy and Mines, and Paul E. Love, Board Chair.

The number of applications filed with the Board during the year was 55. The number of applications which were concluded by mediation was eleven. Three applications were settled by the parties directly after the application was filed with the Board. There were four arbitration hearings concluded during the 2006/2007 year; three mining matters, and one petroleum and natural gas matter.

After providing an opportunity for written public comments on a draft set of rules, the Board implemented the Rules of the Mediation and Arbitration Board on March 31, 2007, which are attached as Appendix A to this report. The Board delivered its services within its budget.

The Board has had a change in its compliment of members during the 2006/2007 fiscal year. At the end of the reporting period the members included Ib Petersen, Darrell Woods and Bruce McKnight and Jim Sodergren. Mr. Petersen is also designated as the Vice – Chair.

The Board also wishes to confirm that Paul Love provided written notice to the Ministry of Energy, Mines and Petroleum Resources on January 2, 2007, that he was not seeking reappointment as the Chair of the Board, but for transitional reasons would continue as Chair until the end of his term. On July 13, 2007 Mr. Love appointed the Vice Chair, Mr. Petersen to act in his stead as of July 13, 2007 until the expiration of his term on July 22, 2007. Cheryl Vickers was appointed as Chair, commencing July 23, 2007.

Paul Love, Former Chair

Introduction

This annual report provides an overview of the structure and function of the Board. It contains information on the mediation and arbitration process that the Board follows. It contains statistics on applications made to the Board, and information concerning the Board's expenditures. This annual report also contains the Board's Rules and forms (Appendix A) and the relevant statutory provisions (Appendix B) that govern the Board's processes. Decisions of the Board, commencing for the years 1999 to the present can be found on the Board's website. Decisions prior to that time period are available for viewing at the Board's office.

The Board

The Mediation and Arbitration Board is an independent administrative agency established under the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act. The Board deals with applications under the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act, Coal Act, Geothermal Resources Act, Mining Right of Way Act, Mineral Tenure Act and, Coal Act.

The Board hears and decides applications for access or entry to privately owned land, lease renewals and damage claims, by persons requiring land for access, exploration and development in the petroleum and natural gas. The Board also hears and decides applications for access to privately owned land under the Mineral Tenures Act and Mining Right of Way Act. Although the Board resolves disputes for the entire province most of the disputes occur in the north-east portion of the province. While the Board has jurisdiction under the Coal Act and Geothermal Resources Act, the Board has had no applications under these Acts during this year.

The Board Office

The Board office is staffed by a part-time Administrator, who receives applications, provides information about the Board's processes, coordinates the setting of dates for mediation and arbitration hearings, and distributes decisions or orders to the parties. Shirley Olsen is the Board's administrator.

Information available about the Board can be found on the Board's website, and at the Board's office. The Board implemented a change in its hours. The office is open to the public Monday to Thursday from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m. and from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Mountain Time. The Board can be reached at:

#310 9900 -100 Avenue

Fort St. John, B.C., V1J 5S7

Telephone: (250)787-3403

Fax: (250)787-3228

Administrator's Email Address: Shirley.Olsen@gov.bc.ca

Because the Board is an independent administrative tribunal which makes decisions in individual cases, the Board requires all contact with the Board, other than communications at pre-hearing conferences, mediation and arbitration hearings be with its administrator, rather than with individual Board members or the Chair. The Board's internet website is:

<http://www.em.gov.bc.ca/subwebs/M&ABoard/>.

Board Membership

The Board members are appointed by the Lieutenant -Governor -in-Council (Cabinet) pursuant to section 13 (1) of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act. Since the Administrative Tribunals Appointment and Administrative Act became effective there has been a greater role for the Chair in recommending appointment of members pursuant to a merit based process. The members are drawn from across the province and presently the Board has one member from Fort St. John, two members from Vancouver Island and two members from Vancouver. All the members are part-time. Board members are remunerated according to Treasury Board Guidelines at a rate of $350.00 per day, plus expenses. The Board has persons drawn from farming, oil and gas, mining industry, and law. Board members bring with them a background but are expected to be impartial with regard to the issues and parties before the Board and exercise their duties in an independent manner. The Board members during the reporting period are:

Board Chair

The Chair of the Board is responsible for the effective management and operation of the tribunal. This includes the assignment of mediators and arbitrators to files, and jurisdictional rulings on applications. The relationship between the Board Chair and the Ministry is set out in a Memorandum of Understanding which is published on the Board's website. The Memorandum reinforces the independence of the Board's decision making from the Minister and Ministry of Energy, Mines and Petroleum Resources. The Board Chair is accountable to the Minister for the use of the Board's resources.

The current Chair, Paul Love is a lawyer who arbitrates, adjudicates and mediates in a wide variety of disputes within and outside of British Columbia. The Board Chair is a part time position. The Chair is remunerated according to Treasury Board Guidelines at $525.00 per day, plus expenses.

The current term of the Board's Chair expires on July 21, 2007. Mr. Love gave written notice to the Ministry of Energy, Mines and Petroleum Resources on January 2, 2007, that he was not seeking reappointment as the Chair of the Board, but would remain until the end of term to ensure continuity and transition of the Board.

Board Training

Members come to the Board with a variety of skills and backgrounds. During the 2006/2007 fiscal year, Board hosted a one day Western Surface Rights Board conference in Victoria, with attendances by Board staff and Chairs from Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and British Columbia.

Policy on Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

The Board's mediation processes are private and are open only to the parties. Board orders made after mediation are available to the public. The Board's arbitration hearings are open for observation by the public, and information provided to the Board by a party must be provided to all other parties in the arbitration hearing. Decisions of the Board are available to the public.

The Board is subject to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.B.C. 1996 c. 165, and the regulations under that Act. If a member of the public requests information about an arbitration or mediation that information may be disclosed, unless the information falls under one of the exceptions in the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

The Board receives leases filed pursuant to section 10 of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act. It is the view of the Board that this information falls under an exception in the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act as it contains confidential business information. The leases are not disclosed to the public. Any person who is a party to a lease may obtain a copy of their lease from the Board.

Legislative Amendments Affecting the Board

There has been no new legislative amendments which have affected the Board during this reporting period.

The relevant legislative provisions which affect the Board are set out in Appendix B to this report.

The Mediation and Arbitration Process

The Board is governed by its published rules of procedure, the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act, and the Administrative Tribunals Act. In the Rules the Board has provided formal processes for dealing with all applications before the Board. Any person who intends to apply to the Board should review the Board's rules. The Rules are comprehensive and intended to provide a complete procedural code for all matters before the Board. The rules are located on the Board's website or a copy can be obtained from the Board's administrator.

The Rules deal with issues including who may appear before the Board, service and filing of documents and communications, procedural applications during and after a mediation or arbitration process, withdrawal or settlement of applications, and the procedure at mediation and arbitration.

The Rules provide modified forms for making, withdrawing or settling an application, making procedural applications and applying to intervene in the Board's process.

The Board principally deals with applications between a party seeking access to land and a landowner. On occasion persons other than the landowner and an oil company or mining company have sought to participate in the Board's processes. The Board has revised its intervener rule requiring a formal application using Form 5 under Rule 20. On application the Board will assess whether a person seeking to intervene in an application will be permitted to participate in an arbitration hearing before the Board, and to define the extent of the participation. In determining whether to grant a person intervener status in an application the member considers how the person would be impacted, what the person intends to contribute to the hearing process, the issues on which the potential intervener wishes to contribute and the expertise to contribute if the person intends to contribute expert evidence.

The Board has a simplified application form which requires the applicant to attach relevant documents. When an application is received by the Board, the application is reviewed by the Board's administrator, and referred to the Chair for review of jurisdictional issues, and assignment of a Board member to mediate, or arbitrate as the case may be. In every case, the Board member assigned to an application will call a preliminary conference to discuss the process the Board will follow.

For lease renewal applications a party is required to give sixty days notice of its intent to require the party to renegotiate the terms of a renewal of a lease. A party may then apply to the Board six months after the date of the expiration of the notice under section 12 of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act. This permits the parties to attempt to resolve the issue without the need to resort to the use of the Board's processes. The Board has no power to reduce that time period, and a party seeking relief from the Board must be in a position to prove that it gave the sixty days notice and that the six month notice period has expired before the Board will proceed with the scheduling of a lease renewal application for mediation before the Board.

Mediation Process

The Board does not follow a pure mediation process. A pure mediation process is a voluntary process whereby the parties chose to go to mediation, the parties chose the mediator and the mediator assists the parties in negotiating a resolution of their problem. Mediation before the Board is a compulsory process and the parties must participate at mediation. The Board's chair assigns a Board member to mediate. The Board's mediation process is a blended mediation and arbitration process conventionally known as a 'med-arb process'. If the mediation does not result in a voluntary settlement, the Board member has the power to make an order which may be accepted or rejected by the parties.

The Board member assigned to mediate, calls a pre-hearing conference with the parties to provide information about the mediation process and to schedule the mediation meeting. The mediator will also discuss with the parties the information the parties will need to bring to the mediation. The pre-hearing conference may be in-person or by telephone conference call.

At the mediation meeting the Board member assists the parties in negotiating a resolution of the application. The discussions and information exchanged during a mediation session are confidential, and are without prejudice to the position that either party may take at an arbitration hearing. Because a mediation proceeding is intended to be confidential the proceedings are not recorded. The mediator may meet separately with each party in a caucus session on a confidential basis to explore settlement possibilities.

If the parties are able to reach a negotiated settlement, they are free to enter into a written agreement which is not filed with the Board. Any lease arising from the mediation agreement must be filed by the Board pursuant to section 10 of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act.

If the Board member is unable to bring the parties to agreement, the Board member may issue an order for access to the lands, interim payment and security. The Board order is published to the parties, and is available to the public on the Board's website. The parties may accept the order or reject the order. If the parties accept the order, the process before the Board comes to an end.

If the parties reject the mediator's order, the Board is required to arbitrate the application under section 20 of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act. Board orders made at mediation are often accepted by the parties as a final solution to the application. In many cases it is anticipated that the order made at mediation may substantially narrow the issues on which an arbitration hearing is required.

Rule 15 sets out the Board's mediation process.

Arbitration Process

An arbitrator is a neutral and independent board member who is assigned by the Chair to make a final and binding determination of the application, subject to a right to apply for a review of the decision by the Supreme Court of British Columbia. The person appointed to arbitrate will usually be a different Board member than the mediator. Generally, there will be a single board member who will arbitrate the dispute. At this point in time, the Chair is only appointing lawyers as single arbitrators.

Rules 22, 23 and 24 set out the Board's arbitration process.

The Board follows an adversarial hearing model where the parties are responsible to raise the issues, and introduce the evidence in support of their position. Arbitration decisions are made on the basis of the admissible evidence introduced by the parties, including oral testimony, expert testimony, documents, relevant law, and the arguments raised by the parties. As the information before the mediator, is not before the arbitrator, the parties are required to exchange with each other and provide to the Board, for transmission to the arbitrator, any materials that the party intends to rely upon at the arbitration hearing.

The Board's administrator will make the administrative arrangements for a pre-hearing conference between the parties and the arbitrator to discuss scheduling issues, and issue directions for the exchange of documents, witness lists, expert reports, statements of issues or facts, and any other matter which will expedite and assist in a fair hearing. These exchanges of information and documents are scheduled to occur before the date of the arbitration hearing so that the parties are fully prepared to proceed to a hearing. A party who fails to disclose the documents that they intend to rely on in advance of the hearing, may not be permitted to introduce the documents into evidence at the hearing. The arbitrator will attempt to narrow the issues which will require evidence at a hearing. Directions following a pre-hearing conference are confirmed in writing. The arbitrator will also specify a method in the pre-hearing conference directions to resolve any further procedural requests in advance of the hearing.

At the main hearing the arbitrator is required to consider the mediation order, but is not bound by the decision of the mediator. The arbitration hearing is a fresh consideration of all the issues on the merits; however, the parties may specify that only certain portions of the mediator's order are in dispute and require a final and binding decision.

The Board's arbitration hearings are not recorded. If any party wishes to record the proceeding, or bring a court reporter to record the proceeding, this must be raised during the pre-hearing conference or on further application to the Board pursuant to Rule 18 and Form 4 before the hearing date. The Board will make an order after considering the arguments and positions of the parties.

At an arbitration hearing the party making the application proceeds first (the applicant), followed by the person responding to the application (the respondent). If there is more than one respondent, the Board will fix the order of the proceeding. The applicant makes an opening statement alerting the Board to the issues including the witnesses the party intends to call. The arbitrator may have the respondent or respondent(s) make an opening statement following the opening statement of the applicant, or defer the opening statement to the opening of the respondent's case. The party will then present its case through witnesses. Any witnesses called by a party will be asked to affirm or swear on a bible before the witness gives evidence. After questioning by the party presenting the witness, the witness is then subject to questioning by the opposing party. The witness may then be re-examined by the party who presented the witness for questioning. When all the witnesses in the applicant's case are concluded, any person responding to the application calls oral evidence using the same procedure described above.

In addition to the making of a final decision, the arbitrator may also make a number of procedural rulings during the course of the proceeding to ensure that the hearing proceeds in a fair and expeditious manner. Some of those rulings made at a hearing may include whether a document is admissible, whether the question asked by a party will be allowed and whether an issue raised by a party can be pursued. The parties are expected to abide by the ruling made at the hearing; however it is open to a party within the time period prescribed by the Administrative Tribunals Act to apply to the Supreme Court of British Columbia for a review of the final decision of an arbitrator. Parties are expected to deal with each other and the arbitrator in a courteous manner at all hearings of the Board.

The arbitrator then hears closing argument from the parties, and retires to make a written decision, which will be delivered to the parties, and posted on the Board's web-site. The written decision can be reviewed on application by either party by a Judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia. The process for the review is set out in the Administrative Tribunals Act.

It is anticipated that most arbitration matters will be heard by a single arbitrator. The selection of the arbitrator and the number of arbitrators is a matter for the Chair to decide. This decision is made without consultation with the parties. The Board has the power under the Administrative Tribunals Act to hold hearings by written submission or by electronic means. The nature of the issue to be decided will have a bearing on the type of the hearing. Generally, the main hearing will be an in-person hearing. Procedural issues in advance of the hearing, or cost applications following the written decision on the main issue may be decided after written submissions or a telephone conference call. The Board now has formal applications and rules governing the raising of procedural issues and cost applications.

Challenges for the Board

There are a range of issues and disputes that arise as a result of oil and gas and mining development when industry seeks to enter onto and use the surface of privately owned land. The Board is a statutory tribunal, and can only mediate or arbitrate those disputes which fall within its statutory mandate. The Board is not a policy making Board that regulates the oil and gas industry, or the conduct of landowners or the conduct of the oil and gas industry. The Board does not have the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, which has inherent jurisdiction to deal with all legal disputes. The Board has a limited dispute resolution mandate.

As the Board does not have the power to hear and decide all issues that arise in the oil and gas and mining industries, at a hearing the Board will limit the evidence and argument to the relevant issues which it has the jurisdiction to decide. Generally, the Board's jurisdiction relates to access and compensation disputes on private land to which an industrial party seeks access. Some of the issues which the Board has no jurisdiction to decide include health concerns or environmental concerns arising from a proposed development, the effect of a development on an adjoining or neighbouring property, or the effect of a development on the community in which the landowner resides. These are concerns that are often brought forward by landowners, or persons seeking intervener status. The inability of the Board to address these issues, and to advise the parties where these issues can be addressed leads to frustration on the part of the landowners or interveners.

The Board faces certain challenges with respect to its dispute resolution process as the mandate is limited and the Board cannot resolve all disputes that may arise by a potential entry onto land by an oil and gas or mining company. Many landowners are unaware that title to land in the province of British Columbia generally contains a reservation of oil and gas and mineral rights to the provincial crown.¹ Most landowners in British Columbia do not own the oil and gas and mineral rights that underlie their property. Many landowners do not wish an oil company on their land at all, and do not wish to experience the nuisances associated with oil and gas production. Some of the disputes are very contentious: access for sour gas extraction, or access for coal bed methane. Often these disputes are linked to health and safety concerns over which the Board has no jurisdiction. Mineral development often can consume the entire land.

Many of the Board's "clients" are unrepresented by counsel. The "clients" often look to the Board for advice and information concerning the merits of their dispute, or the probable outcome if the matter were to proceed to a hearing. This poses a challenge to a Board which has the obligation to make orders, if the dispute is not resolved by negotiation at a mediation meeting. Because the Board must be independent and neutral in the exercise of its dispute resolution mandate, the Board cannot operate as an advice bureau to land owners or to persons seeking access to land for petroleum and natural gas or mineral purposes. The Board cannot provide advice to any party on the probable outcome of a matter proceeding to arbitration, or information concerning comparable lease rates.

The Board is aware of a longstanding concern of landowners that industry has more information than landowners on lease comparables and that there is a basic inequality in bargaining power between landowners and oil and gas and mining companies. The Board has no role to play in the correction of any power imbalance; the Board simply mediates and arbitrates applications before the Board where the parties are unable to resolve their dispute. The Board as a neutral party has no role to play in the advising of parties on issues other than providing information on purely procedural issues related to the Board's mediation and arbitration process. It is up to the parties to research, and prepare properly to participate in mediation or arbitration. It is the Board's view that most parties before the Board would be well served by obtaining legal representation. The Board has a statutory power under section 47 of the Administrative Tribunals Act to award costs.

The scope of the costs power has not been fully determined as Board decisions on costs depend on applications that are made by a party. The Board has some cost applications in arbitration proceedings which have not yet concluded fully. The Board has recently ordered costs thrown away as a term of granting a late application to adjourn a four day hearing on damages (Board File 1556, Order A-416). The hearing related to the assessment of those costs has not concluded.

Statistics

During the year the Board received 52 new applications relating to oil and gas matters. The Board received 1 application relating to mining matters. The Board conducted 29 mediations and issued 4 arbitration decisions. At the present time arbitration decisions are pending in one matter. Most of the Board's applications were resolved through mediation.

During the year, the Board held all of its mediation meetings in the Peace area. Mediation matters are concluded within several weeks from the date of application. Generally mediation matters take one half day session, but the Board dealt with mediation matters requiring a full day and more than one day. The Board held arbitration hearings in Fort St. John. Arbitration matters generally take several months as they are more involved processes. This year the Board had arbitration hearings which consumed more than one day of hearing time. The Board issued arbitration orders in two mining matters (M394-A2, A-395). The Board issued arbitration orders in one petroleum and natural gas matter (A-403), which is currently the subject of an application for judicial review.

Budget

The Board delivered its services under budget, despite a substantial increase in the number of applications from the previous fiscal year. The Board has been able to deliver its services in a cost effective basis through the assignment of mediators on a geographic basis, and by application of the change of quorum from two members to one board member. The Board is expecting a substantial increase to its operating costs during the next fiscal year, as the Board is anticipating a movement to new premises, and the market rents in Fort St. John have increased substantially since the commencement of the term of the lease on the existing premises. The Board is also anticipating a substantial one time moving expense cost. Initially the Board was expecting some or all of these increased costs to materialize during the 2005/2006 or 2006/2007 fiscal year.

The Board's expenditures for the fiscal year are set out below.

Fiscal Year	2005/2006	2006/2007

Notes to Budget

1 Increase from FY2005/2006 as in 2005/2006 the costs excluded temporary staffing costs while the Board was engaged in a recruitment process

2 Incurred in support of Surface Rights Conference in Victoria in June of 2006 and training.

3 Included in Office expenses for 2006/2007

4 Reduced from FY2005/2006 as temporary staffing costs included in this financial year were not required in FY 2006/2007.

Petroleum and Natural Gas Act*, R.S.B.C. 1996, c. 361, as am.

Agreement to enter land

9 (1) A person may not enter, occupy or use land, other than Crown land, to explore for, develop or produce petroleum or natural gas or explore for, develop or use a storage reservoir unless

(a) the person makes, with each owner of the land, a surface lease in the form and content prescribed authorizing the entry, occupation or use,

(b) the board authorizes the entry, occupation or use, or

(c) as a result of a hearing under section 20, the board makes an order specifying terms of entry, occupation and use, including payment of rent and compensation.

(2) A person who enters, occupies or uses land to explore for, develop or produce petroleum or natural gas or explore for, develop or use a storage reservoir is liable,

(a) to pay compensation to the land owner for loss or damage caused by the entry, occupation or use, and

(b) if the board so orders, to pay rent for the duration of the occupation or use.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2) (a), if a certificate of restoration is required after the entry, occupation or use, the liability for payment of compensation ends on the date stated in the certificate.

Record of entry agreements

10 A person who has, under a surface lease containing rental provisions, the right to enter, occupy or use land other than Crown land to explore for, develop or produce petroleum or natural gas or explore for, develop or use a storage reservoir must, not more than 90 days after the date the person acquires the right, submit to the board his or her name, address, a description of the land and a copy of the surface lease.

Renegotiation

11 (1) This section applies despite a surface lease containing rental provisions made, order made or an authority given, before or after July 1, 1974, or anything done under the surface lease, order or authority.

(2) If a person has, for a continuous period of 4 years, been entering, occupying or using land to explore for, develop or produce petroleum or natural gas or explore for, develop or use a storage reservoir, that person may, or an owner of the land may, on or after the next anniversary of the making of the lease, order or authority, on giving 60 days' notice in the prescribed form by registered mail to each owner of the land and to each person who is entering or occupying the land for the purpose stated or for a connected or incidental purpose, require renegotiation of rental provisions in the surface lease, order or authority.

(3) Subsection (2) also applies if 4 years have elapsed since

(a) the completion of the last renegotiation of rentals under subsection (4), or

(b) the effective date of an order under section 12 (2).

(4) If notice is given under subsection (2) or (3), the persons giving and receiving the notice may renegotiate the rental provisions by mutual agreement.

Arbitration: other provisions

12 (1) If rental provisions are not renegotiated under section 11 (4) within 6 months after the expiration of the notice, an owner of the land or person entering, occupying or using the land for a purpose referred to in section 11 (2) may apply in writing to the board for arbitration under section 17 (3).

(2) If an application is made for arbitration, an order may be made varying the rental provisions, or may be refused.

(3) A renegotiation or order under section 11 or this section is effective from the immediate past anniversary date of the surface lease preceding the notice and is retroactive to the extent necessary to give effect to this subsection, but in all other respects the surface lease, order or authority remains in force.

(4) Despite anything in a subsisting surface lease made before or after July 1, 1974 or the termination of the surface lease, the rentals payable under it continue to be payable until the commission has issued a certificate of restoration for the leasehold, and this subsection is retroactive to the extent necessary to give effect to its provisions.

13 (1) The Mediation and Arbitration Board is continued consisting of up to 9 individuals appointed as follows by the Lieutenant Governor in Council after a merit based process:

- (a) one member designated as the chair;

(2) The board must

- (a) prepare a record of every proceeding before it, and
 - (b) provide any person, on application during normal business hours and payment of the fee, with copies of a record in the custody of the board.
- (2.1) If the board transcribes or tape records a proceeding, the transcription or tape recording constitutes part of the record of the proceeding and is deemed to be correct.
- (2.2) If, because of a mechanical or human failure or other accident, the transcription or tape recording is destroyed, interrupted or incomplete, the validity of the proceeding is not affected.
- (3) The board has custody of its records and of documents filed with the board in the board's proceedings.
- (4) The board is responsible for drawing orders and rulings of the board, and for filing those orders and rulings with their appropriate records.

Application for mediation and arbitration

16 (1) A person may apply to the board for mediation and arbitration under this section if the person

- (a) requires land to explore for, develop or produce petroleum or natural gas or explore for, develop or use a storage reservoir or for a connected or incidental purpose, and an owner of the land refuses to grant a surface lease satisfactory to that person authorizing entry, occupation or use for that purpose,
 - (b) is the owner of land that is entered, occupied or used for a purpose referred to in paragraph (a), and damage to the land or suffering to the owner is caused by the entry or occupation, or
 - (c) is a person referred to in section 129.
- (2) Subject to the board's rules of procedure, the application must be made in the form the board requires and must be accompanied by
- (a) an affidavit of the applicant, listing the name and address of each person directly affected, or who could reasonably be expected to be directly affected, by an order on the application, and verifying service of the application by registered mail on each person,
 - (b) if Crown land could reasonably be expected to be affected by an order, an affidavit verifying service of the application by registered mail on the commission and the minister responsible for the Land Act, and
 - (c) if the application is for the purposes of a development road or conservation scheme, a copy of the commission's approval of, or order for, the road or scheme.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply in respect of geophysical exploration.

Further information and dates

17 (1) If the board believes that further information is required to hear and consider the application, or that the applicant has not served every person who would be directly affected, the board may require the applicant to provide further information or serve those persons.

(2) The application is deemed not to be received until the applicant provides the board with the further information or submits an affidavit verifying service of the application on the other persons directly affected.

(3) The chair must, promptly after the board receives an application under section 12, 16 or this section, set, after consultation with the applicant and the persons most likely to be directly affected by an order on the application, the places and dates of mediation and arbitration hearings, as the case may be.

Mediation hearing

18 (1) The chair, or a member the chair designates, must summarily hear representation by or on behalf of the applicant and persons likely to be directly affected, and must act as mediator for the purpose of resolving the complaint specified in the application.

(2) If, after the first mediation hearing, the application is not withdrawn and the complaint or issue specified in the application is not resolved, the mediator may

(a) dismiss the application,

(b) set one or more mediation hearings, or

(c) if the mediator believes that the complaint or issue cannot be summarily resolved by mediation, make an order refusing further mediation hearings.

(3) If an application is made under section 16 (1), and if the mediator believes, as a result of a mediation hearing, that the applicant should be permitted to enter, occupy or use the land, the mediator may make an order under section 19.

(4) If an applicant alleges in an application made under section 16 (1) that money is due to the applicant, the mediator may, as a result of a mediation hearing, order that the amount the mediator determines be paid to the applicant by the person or persons, and in the proportions the mediator may specify.

(5) An order of the mediator under subsection (4) is not final unless every person directly affected by the order approves of it or the board confirms the order.

Entry, occupation or use order

19 (1) A mediator may make an order permitting, subject to the terms the mediator may specify in the order, an applicant under section 16 to enter, occupy or use the land for a purpose stated in that section.

(2) Before making an order, a mediator must

(a) require the applicant to deposit with the board security in the amount, form and manner that the mediator considers necessary for the purpose of ensuring that the owners of the land will be paid any amount ordered subsequently to be paid to them,

(b) require the applicant to pay to the owners, as partial payment of the amount subsequently ordered by the board to be paid to them, an amount of money not less than 1/2 the amount of security required to be deposited, and

(c) require the applicant to serve a copy of the order on each owner of the land, and direct the manner of service.

(3) Despite subsection (2), the board, on application at any time, may require the applicant to pay to the owners under subsection (2) (b) additional amounts the board considers proper.

(4) In determining an amount of money to be paid, the board is not bound by an order of the mediator under section 18 (4) or by a requirement of the mediator under subsection (2).

Arbitration hearing

20 (1) Unless the application is withdrawn or the applicant and the person who will likely be directly affected by an order approve the order of the mediator, the board must hear representation by or on behalf of the applicant and persons likely to be directly affected by an order, and must arbitrate for the purpose of resolving the complaint specified in the application.

(2) Unless the applicant and the other persons otherwise agree, the board must review an order of the mediator made under section 19, and may confirm or vary the order, subject to the terms it considers proper.

(3) Unless the applicant and the other persons otherwise agree, the board,

(a) if a mediator has made an order under section 18 (4), must review the order, confirm it or vary it in the manner and subject to the terms the board considers proper,

(b) if a mediator has not made an order under section 18 (4), must determine the amount of money to be paid to a person, as rent for occupation or use, or for damage caused, up to the date stated in a certificate of restoration, for the entry, occupation or use, and

(c) may determine the disposition of the amount remaining of the deposit required under section 19 (2) as between the applicant and the owner.

Determining amount

21 (1) In determining an amount to be paid periodically or otherwise on an application made under section 12 or 16 (1), the board may consider

- (a) the compulsory aspect of the entry, occupation or use,
- (b) the value of the land and the owner's loss of a right or profit with respect to the land,
- (c) temporary and permanent damage from the entry, occupation or use,
- (d) compensation for severance,
- (e) compensation for nuisance and disturbance from the entry, occupation or use,
- (f) money previously paid to an owner for entry, occupation or use,
- (g) other factors the board considers applicable, and
- (h) other factors or criteria established by regulation.

(2) In determining an amount to be paid on an application under section 12, the board must consider any change in the value of money and of land since the date the surface lease, order or authority was originally or last granted.

Termination of order

22 (1) If 2 years have expired since an order made by the mediator or the board authorizing entry, occupation or use of land, the applicant for the order may, on not less than 90 days' notice to the land owner, apply to the board for an order terminating the previous order.

(2) Subject to the board's rules of procedure, an application must be made in the form the board requires.

(3) On receiving the application, the chair must without delay set, after consulting the applicant and the persons likely to be directly affected by an order, a date and place of hearing.

(4) The chair, or other board members the chair designates, must summarily hear representation by or on behalf of the applicant and persons who will likely be directly affected by an order resulting from the application, and may dismiss the application, or dismiss it subject to the terms and conditions he or she considers appropriate, or make an order terminating the previous order, conditional on

- (a) the removal of all equipment and facilities used in respect of and the restoration of all land directly affected by the entry, occupation or use, and
 - (b) obtaining from the commission a certificate of restoration in respect of the land.
- (5) An application is not required if all persons likely to be directly affected by termination of the previous order agree to the termination and so long as the conditions in subsection (4) are complied with.

Repealed

23 and 24 [Repealed 2004-45-150.]

Service and registration of order

- 25 (1) If an order is made by the board, the board must provide notice of the order to the applicant and to any other persons directly affected by that order.
- (2) If the board makes an order on an application under section 16 (1) (a), the applicant must not enter, occupy or use the land until the owner of the land has received a certified copy of the order.
- (3) If the board makes an order authorizing or terminating entry, occupancy or use of land, the applicant for the order must file a certified copy of the order with the registrar of the appropriate land title district, who, on payment of the appropriate fees, must endorse his or her records accordingly.
- (4) An order made by the board is effective on the date it is issued by the board unless the order specifies otherwise.
- (5) If the board is of the opinion that because there are so many parties to an application or for any other reason it is impracticable to give notice of its final order to all or any of the parties individually, the board may give notice of its final order by public advertisement or otherwise as the board directs.
- (6) If the board gives notice under subsection (5) of a final order, the notice must inform the parties where copies of the final order may be obtained.
- (7) The board must provide for public access to its orders.

Review and enforcement of order

- 26 (1) An order of the mediator or board granting the right to enter, occupy or use land may be enforced in the same manner as a writ of possession issued by a court.

- (2) The board may, on its own motion or on application,
- (a) rehear an application before making a determination, and
 - (b) review, rescind, amend or vary a direction or order made by it, the chair or a board member.

Repealed

27 [Repealed 2004-45-152.]

Certified copies

28 A certified copy of an order of the board signed by the chair, or the secretary of the board if appointed, must be admitted as evidence of the order by the board.

Assignment

- 29 An order by the board may be assigned by
- (a) serving notice of the assignment on the other parties named in the order,
 - (b) filing a certified copy of the assignment with the board, and
 - (c) filing the assignment with the registrar of the appropriate land title district, who, on payment of the appropriate registration fee, must endorse against the indefeasible or absolute title of the land affected by the assignment.

Failure to pay money

30 If the owner of land in respect of which an order was made by a mediator or the board refuses to comply with the order, the applicant for the order may apply to the board to deduct from any compensation to be determined and awarded to the owner under the order an amount covering the cost of and incidental to obtaining entry on, or occupancy and use of, the land according to the order, which amount is at the sole discretion of the board.

(3) The tribunal may question any witness who gives oral evidence in an oral or electronic hearing.

Adjournments

39 (1) An application may be adjourned by the tribunal on its own motion or if it is shown to the satisfaction of the tribunal that the adjournment is required to permit an adequate hearing to be held.

(3) Nothing is admissible before the tribunal that is inadmissible in a court because of a privilege under the law of evidence.

(4) Nothing in subsection (1) overrides the provisions of any Act expressly limiting the extent to or purposes for which any oral testimony, documents or things may be admitted or used in evidence.

(5) Notes or records kept by a person appointed by the tribunal to conduct a dispute resolution process in relation to an application are inadmissible in tribunal proceedings.

Hearings open to public

41 (1) An oral hearing must be open to the public.

(2) Despite subsection (1), the tribunal may direct that all or part of the information be received to the exclusion of the public if the tribunal is of the opinion that

(b) it is not practicable to hold the hearing in a manner that is open to the public.

(3) The tribunal must make a document submitted in a hearing accessible to the public unless the tribunal is of the opinion that subsection (2) (a) or section 42 applies to that document.

(c) if the tribunal considers the conduct of a party has been improper, vexatious, frivolous or abusive, requiring the party to pay part of the actual costs and expenses of the tribunal in connection with the application.

(2) An order under subsection (1), after filing in the court registry, has the same effect as an order of the court for the recovery of a debt in the amount stated in the order against the person named in it, and all proceedings may be taken on it as if it were an order of the court.

Maintenance of order at hearings

48 (1) At an oral hearing, the tribunal may make orders or give directions that it considers necessary for the maintenance of order at the hearing, and, if any person disobeys or fails to comply with any order or direction, the tribunal may call on the assistance of any peace officer to enforce the order or direction.

- (b) take an oath or affirmation;
- (c) answer questions;
- (d) produce the records or things in their custody or possession.

(2) Despite subsection (1), either before or after expiration of the time, the court may extend the time for making the application on terms the court considers proper, if it is satisfied that there are serious grounds for relief, there is a reasonable explanation for the delay and no substantial prejudice or hardship will result to a person affected by the delay.

Standard of review if tribunal's enabling Act has no privative clause

59 (1) In a judicial review proceeding, the standard of review to be applied to a decision of the tribunal is correctness for all questions except those respecting the exercise of discretion, findings of fact and the application of the common law rules of natural justice and procedural fairness.

(2) A court must not set aside a finding of fact by the tribunal unless there is no evidence to support it or if, in light of all the evidence, the finding is otherwise unreasonable.

(3) A court must not set aside a discretionary decision of the tribunal unless it is patently unreasonable.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3), a discretionary decision is patently unreasonable if the discretion

(a) is exercised arbitrarily or in bad faith,

(b) is exercised for an improper purpose,

(c) is based entirely or predominantly on irrelevant factors, or

(d) fails to take statutory requirements into account.

Right of entry on private land and compensation

19 (1) A person must not commence a mining activity by a method using mechanical equipment that disturbs the surface unless the recorded holder

(a) first serves written notice on the owner of every surface area on which the recorded holder intends to work or intends to utilize a right of entry for that purpose, and

(b) provides, within 30 days after serving the notice required by paragraph (a), a copy of the notice to the chief gold commissioner and to an inspector under the Mines Act.

(2) A free miner or recorded holder, or any person acting under or with the authority of a free miner or recorded holder, is liable to compensate the owner of a surface area for loss or damage caused by the entry, occupation or use of that area or right of way by or on behalf of the free miner or recorded holder for location, exploration and development, or production of minerals or placer minerals.

(3) On receipt by the chief gold commissioner of an application from a free miner, recorded holder, owner or other person who, in the opinion of the chief gold commissioner, has a material interest in the surface, the chief gold commissioner must use his or her best efforts to settle issues in dispute between them arising from rights acquired under this Act in respect of entry, taking of right of way, use or occupation, security, rent or compensation.

(7) If an owner of private land opposes entry on the land by a recorded holder on the grounds that the intended activity would obstruct or interfere with an existing operation or activity on the land or with the construction or maintenance of a building, structure, improvement or work on the land, the Mediation and Arbitration Board must determine the impact of the intended entry and must determine which parts of the land would be affected by that entry.

(8) If, under subsection (7), the Mediation and Arbitration Board determines that it is not possible to enter the land or a part of it without obstruction or interference, in addition to any other order it makes, the board must make an order

(a) specifying conditions of entry that will minimize the obstruction to or interference with the existing circumstances of the land, and

(b) specifying compensation for obstruction to or interference with enjoyment of the land.
