

SURFACE RIGHTS BOARD INFORMATION SHEET #11

RENT REVIEW

The annual rental provisions in a surface lease or Board Order may be renegotiated every four years. Either a landowner or an operator (the resource company or free miner) may commence rent renegotiation by completing the Board's Form 2 and sending it by registered mail to the other party. The landowner and operator should then hold discussions between themselves in attempt to mutually agree on new rent provisions. If they are not successful, either party may apply to the Board for mediation and arbitration 60 days after receipt of the Form 2 using Form 1D. The applicant must send the other party a copy of the application by registered mail.

Any new rental rates are retroactive to the anniversary date of the surface lease - immediately preceding the date of the Notice for Rent Renegotiation (Form 2). For example, if the surface lease was signed on September 1, 2005 and Form 2 was completed on November 1, 2010 any new rental rate would be retroactive to Sept. 1, 2010. If a surface lease was not signed, the retroactive date is determined in a similar fashion, based on the anniversary date of the Board Order.

When the Board receives an application for mediation and arbitration services (Form 1D), it will arrange a telephone mediation conference to discuss the application. If the parties do not agree on the new rent provisions during this conference and any subsequent mediations, the Board will refer the case to its arbitration services.

See the Board's Information Sheets on Mediation, and Arbitration for more information about the Board's processes.
